RAILROAD NOTELETS

Important Changes on the Burlington Route.

Local Notes of the Illinois Central Railroad—Many Items of Interest.

The Burlington Route appoints, endorse November 1, as

Mr. R. K. Smith, at present general agent at Leavenworth, is appointed assistant superintendent of the K. C. St. J. & C. B. road, headquarters at St. Joseph.

The position of assistant superintendent is a new one, and is a determining factor in the great increase of traffic of the Burlington Route
in the Missouri river territory.

Mr. C. W. Alexander, now city passenger agent at Kansas City, appointed general agent at Leavenworth.

Mr. F. C. Sharon is promoted from chief rate clerk, general passenger office at St. Louis, to the position of city passenger agent at Kansas City.

Mr. John J. Shine, of the Kansas City ticket office, is promoted to be
city ticket agent of that city.

The above appointments are made with strict regard to the civil service rules of promotion, as applying generally to the employees of the Burlington Route.

Master Mechanic M. S. Conley left at 7:45 o'clock this morning for a tour of inspection of the Louisville
district. He will stop at all points, and does not expect to be back for several days.

Trainmaster J. J. Flynn is at Covington, Tenn., attending court.

No trace has yet been discovered of the would-be train wreckers who
removed a rail near Timble, Tenn.,
and then shot an old man who discovered them in time to prevent a wreck.

The Illinois Central is preparing to make extensive improvements on its bridge over Tennessee river and a large quantity of lumber and other material is being carried there for use.

Ticket Agent George Warfield had a busy time of it yesterday. He was unable to close his office from 1 p. m.
until 2 a. m. on account of the number of odd fellows leaving.

Engineer Bethel has resumed his run between Paducah and Central City after a several days' illness.

Conductor Fosdyke is expected to resume the Central City accommodation run today or tomorrow, after a week's rest, spent in Louisville. Conductor Jess Putnam is on the run now.

The appointment of chief clerk, a position now held by Mr. Chas. Morris, has not been made, and probably will not be for a month or longer. When Supt. Renshaw was here he only asked how the acting chief clerk was getting along. It will doubtless be in this case as it was with the general foreman. The appointment will be made temporarily until the officials are satisfied that it is a good one,
and will then be made permanent.

It is still uncertain when the dispatchers will be moved to the "Y" office. The new building is about complete, but it seems to be the according of the company to start everybody in a tangle, when the new depot
is built.

PROCLAMATION

The Proclamation of King Esahcrup I, to all the tribes in all his dominions to the South and West as far as the land of the Tennessee and to the North and East to the shores of the Mississippi and Ohio.

Be it known unto you all that after an absence of many years, which we have employed most diligently in the study of philosophy of the Laputans, in the life of the Eutopians, and in the political economy of the Al-tutrians, it is our purpose to come once more unto our land and unto our own people.

We hereby set apart the 26th and 27th Days of October, 1899

and the ninety-first year of our separation from the land of the Tennessee-ans, as days of thanksgiving and pleasure, and it is hereby commanded that our Satrap of the province of Calloway, our Satrap of the province of Marshall, our Satrap of the province of Graves, our Satrap of the province of Fulton, our Satrap of the province of Carlisle, our Satrap of the province of Ballard, our regents of the lands of Livingston and Lyon and our governor of Illinois that they cause this, our Proclamation, to be read to all our loyal subjects within their respective borders, and that they come up to our capital, the city of Paducah, on the aforesaid days, together with their wives and children, their maid servants and their man servants, their horses, their donkeys, their camels, and their beasts of burden to hold high festival.

We also command our secretaries of the interior, Donovan and Burnham, to arrange ways and means for the comfortable and expeditious transportation of these vast crowds. The King gives orders to his Viceroy Lang that all the ways be swept, rose odors be sprinkled in the streets, that the trees be hung with lamps and flags, that he allow the merry crowds to stand on the corners of the streets while they gaze at jugglers, charmers, sword players, the Nautch girls in their spangled skirts and bells that chime loud laughter around their restless feet, that he rebuke not masquers wrapped in skins of bear and deer, or tiger tamers, wrestlers, heaters of drums or twangers of the wire, who make the people happy by our command.

It is our royal will and pleasure that our trusted Admiral Fowler, of the Ohio squadron, shall have his vessels decked in holiday attire and punctually at four bells on the morning of October 26 sail north to meet our flagship. It is also our command that our noble Admiral Koger, of the Tennessee squadron, to whom has been assigned the care of our well beloved queen, Autumn, to display his battleships and cruisers in the harbor at our capital city and after the debarkation of our royal escort to await our command.

It is also directed that our thrice loyal Viceroy Lang receive with all due respect her royal majesty, and with a suitable body guard conduct her to the palace and there await our coming. It is our further will and pleasure that the commander of the citadel cause to be unfurled above the palace our royal standard, that all our liege subjects may know of our presence within our favorite city and do it homage.

It is our desire that all dwellers in the land of the balsam and the pennyrile, all strangers and visitors within the gate of our loyal city shall join in the pomp and revelry, with mask and antique pageantry.

Given under our hand and seal this, the 9th day of October, 5903.

ESAHCRUP I. REX.

Flagship Royal Ynnep.

Commander Hakudap.

THE VOTES INCREASE

Miss Emma Reed Leads the Contest for Queen of Carnival.

Committees Are Hard at Work on the Approaching Celebration.

The carnival committees met again
at the Palmer house last night and the industrial parade committee were added Messrs. A. C. Atkins and Men-dall Johnson, of the Elks. Mr. John McNulty was appointed to see the butchers and others on the market and ascertain how many wanted floats.

The following establishments have been added to the list of those who will be represented in the grand parade.

The contest for queen of the carnival
is becoming spirited, and yesterday 886 votes were cast. The vote is counted at 7:30 p. m. in the Palmer house.

The total vote is as follows:
Miss Emma Reed 605.
Miss Lizzie Sinnott 285.
Miss May Terrell 136.
Miss Ruby Allard 123.
Miss Fannie Sullivan 64.
Miss Alice Sanders 54.
Miss Floss Owen 51.
Miss Martha Hill 53.

The contestants have been reduced to eight. Miss Martha Leech withdrew her name last evening and today,
by request of her father, the name of Miss Blanch Schiwa is omitted also.

the people who have rooms they wish to rent for the days of the festivities advertise them so that the bureau of

WAS NO RACE TODAY

Against the Yachts Fail to Get Together.

There Was Not Enough Wind to Even Start Them Over the Course.

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 12.—A light breeze that didn't last long greeted the yachtsmen and others interested in the international races this morning. The breeze did not last long and the prospects for a race are not encouraging. The heavy fog which has hung over the sea for the past few days has disappeared. Notwithstanding the dismal outlook the crews of the Shanrock and Columbia were astir early, preparing for the contest. The wind began to blow stronger at 9, but the sea was as smooth as a billiard table. At 9:15 the racers weighed anchor and passed out to Sandy Hook at 9:30. The wind then was blowing about four knots and a heavy haze
everywhere all at a distance of a mile.

In the preliminary maneuvers around the starting point the Shanrock showed up decidedly better than the Yankee, completely outpacing and outfooting the Columbia on every tack.

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 12.—The yacht race set for today is postponed
on account of the unfavorable weather conditions.

LEFT THIS AFTERNOON.

This afternoon Mayor Lang, Councilmen J. M. Ezell and S. H. Winstead, and Street Inspector Uiterback left at 2:30 for Cairo, via Fulton. They will get there about 6 o'clock tonight.

A SCATTERED BODY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The police today made another ghastly find in connection with the mysterious murder of a woman whose body was discovered. It consisted of the entire and a certain internal organ
that was almost cut in two.

A CONFLICT IS NOW ON

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A dispatch
from Lady Smith confirms the reported Boer invasion of Natal. The burghers occupied Laing Nek as soon as the ultimatum time expired. They have also taken up a position on In-gers Heights, in the Orange Free State. The burghers invaded Natal
by way of Vanreems Pass.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 12.—Premier Schreiner refused to sign Sir Meyer's proclamation declaring all persons abetting the enemy would be guilty of high treason. He bases his objection on technical grounds.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—News of actual movements in South Africa continue scanty and contradictory. It is supposed the Boers intend to flank the British in Natal, getting behind their defenses. Charleston and New Castle may already be in the hands of the Boers.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—It is rumored
the government intends to impeach
several Irish members of parliament
for high treason, in having given aid and comfort to the Transvaal. The rumor has caused a lively sensation.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 12.—In the assembly today Premier Schreiner made a last and impassioned plea for peace. Parliament adjourns today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Communist Cable company issued a statement
today that Natal announced military overship on all messages to and from Natal.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A private message from Cape Town says the Free State burghers have crossed Orange river into Cape Colony and have occupied Philippus wn.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 12.—Corynham
Green, the British agent at P'etoria, left there yesterday afternoon for Cape Town, after paying a formal visit of farewell to Kruger and the Transvaal officials.

Americans Make Another Advance
in the Philippines.

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 12.—The Americans today. General Young advanced and made a distinct advance in the on Arayat, when he encountered the enemy in force. They made a brief resistance, however, retreating toward Magalang. The Americans had one man wounded. Government soldiers have occupied Arayat.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—All doubt that the American troops in Luzon
are determinedly hunting for Agutand was removed in the opinion of the war department officials by the following received this morning from General O'D.: "Schwan's column is moving on Sabán and Dasmariñas today, where opposition is expected.
Column of five hundred men is marching from Imus to support Schwan if necessary. Young, at the north, occupied Arayat and supplies are being moved up Rio Grande by Cascos to that point. Lawton will command the column when full concentration is effected. Young's loss today, one enlisted man wounded yesterday. Insurgents attacked the Angeles line, but were quickly repulsed. Six enlisted

SCHLEY TO AFRICA

Admiral and His Flagship Ordered to Cape Town.

American Interests in the Transvaal Are to be Protected—Sails October 25.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Rear Admiral Schley and his flagship, the Chicago, have been ordered to Cape Town, South Africa, the start to be October 25 or later. The mission of the rear admiral will be to observe as much as he can the operations if war should occur.

The cruiser Montgomery, another of the vessels of Schley's command, will go also to South Africa. She is now at Pernambuco, Brazil, and will start immediately after the outbreak of hostilities.

Sears and Lieutenant Benjamin W. Wells will be assigned to Schley's staff as flag lieutenant and flag secretary, respectively. They held the same positions in the war with Spain. Admiral Schley was informed that he will require two weeks to put the Chicago in shape for her cruise, so it was arranged that she should sail on the 25th inst. Meanwhile Admiral Schley has arranged to pay a visit to friends in Georgia.

Rear Admiral H. M. Farquhar will hold his flag on the New York and assume command of the North Atlantic squadron in Hampton roads next Saturday.

Captain James G. Greene has been assigned to duty as captain of the Norfolk navy yard, to succeed Captain Lockwood, who goes to South Atlantic Station, in command of the Chicago.

CORBETT'S APPOINTMENT.
Attorney Hal Corbett has no definite appointments for the next several days. Circuit court convenes here Monday in civil session, and a number of cases in which he is interested will claim his attention.

THURSDAY, OCT. 12, 1899.

England and Germany are preparing for the partition of another continent—this time the Antarctic continent.

Bryan has not yet started for Kentucky. He has time, however, to do so and he has time also to declare that he is to fill Paducah's often got sick when it is wise to be indisposed.

The visiting Odd Fellows have left us. They left behind many new friends and no doubt took away with them pleasant memories. The local brethren did themselves credit in the way they entertained their guests.

Goebel papers are endeavoring to put the Brown faction on the defensive, by charging all manner of things. They hope in this way to detract the attention of the public from their rotten record and rotten work.

Every sanguine Goebelite, when he is compelled to tell of the faith he holds, counts above on "the king's" election because of the Goebel election bill. "The machine is ours," they say, "and it will be able to work and do its duty." The Goebelites are only deluding themselves.

Gen. Taylor is making such another glorious canvass for election as no party leader in the state ever approached. His sound and logical speeches, his fine showing of state and national matters, his elucidation of the party's strong platform, his own clear record, manner of speech, his own character and the faith of the public are winning for him the assurance of a rousing vote and a safe majority. Taylorism is glad tidings to the people and Goebelism a dread of destruction through robbery in all places.

The Democratic Philadelphia Times does not seem to have great faith in the sagacity of its party. It says that the "Democrats have no more chance to elect Bryan president in 1900 than they have to make a railway journey to the moon." There is just one way, the Times continues, in which the Democrats might elect the next president, and that is to nominate Admiral Dewey with a southern man like Wheeler or Lee for vice president; but there is "just one chance in a million that the Democrats will have sense enough to do it."

The city council of Paducah was invited by the mayor of Cairo to attend the street fair the day and be guests of honor of the Cairo council. The Paducah council accepted the invitation and so notified the council at Cairo. The Cairo council then appropriated $250 to assist in entertaining the Paducah officials, and this morning three councilmen and the city clerk went down to participate in the Egyptian hospitality, while the others remained at home, presumably to look after business. It is left to the citizens of Paducah whether or not they are proud of their council. Whether or not the council has treated Cairo right and has done the right thing as representatives of the people of Paducah. It looks very much like a slight, especially as the mayor did not go. Paducah owes Cairo an apology for her council.

"Uncommon shrewdness, self-reliance, force and aggressiveness" are the qualities that are attributed to Goebel. He has all of those traits without doubt, but there are lots of men in the world that are of like gifts, who are not the kind of men that men who love the fair thing, the right way, would want to see in the governor's chair. Some of the worst men on earth, the lawless, the bloodthirsty, the greedy, and narrow-minded and most selfish, and those who can do most harm are those who have "uncommon shrewdness, self-reliance, force and aggressiveness." These are very powerful traits, and the man who has them strongly developed can work wonders for evil or for good. The man so built, if not balanced and tempered by better graces, is usually adjudged the most dangerous of men. William Goebel is a dangerous man toward any man or set of men, or anything that stands in the way of his ambition. Such qualities are capable of wrecking anything, and the Democratic party is doomed to destruction because of its "king."

A 75,000,000 CENSUS.

The statistical expert of the department of agriculture, Mr. Henry Farquhar, has made four distinct and elaborate calculations regarding the result of the twelfth census, to be begun in June, 1900. The first of these calculations gives the United States a population of 73,488,000; the second, 74,682,000; the third, 75,679,000; the fourth, 74,466,000.

In the October number of the North American Review, Michael C. Mulhall, England's most famous statistician, estimated that the twelfth census would show our population to be 77,300,000. With these five estimates as a base of calculation, a little figuring produces an average estimate of 75,197,200, or, in round numbers, 75,000,000.

This, he is remembered, is our continental population. With the Hawaiian Islands, Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, the aggregate will not be far from 85,000,000 persons under the stars and stripes.

BRADLEY CONFOUNDS CRITICS

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune: "Because Wm. O. Bradley, governor of Kentucky, has not seen fit to enter actively into the state campaign by an early speaking tour, it has suited the purposes of the Democrats to regard him as inimical to the Republican ticket. This has not interfered in the least with Governor Bradley's plans. With perfect propriety he has gone about in the discharge of his political duties, giving not the slightest concern to the gratuitous interference of these anxious Democrats.

"But the friends of the governor, the Republicans of Kentucky and the Commercial Tribune, have had no apprehension. This paper has taken occasion to say that at the proper time Governor Bradley would give the ticket the benefit of his talent upon the rostrum, as he was continuously giving it the benefit of his heartiest support. This, not because of any confidential communication on the subject from Governor Bradley, but simply because of an intimate knowledge of the quality of Governor Bradley's Republicanism.

"If the badly demoralized, disgraced Goebelized Democracy of Kentucky is basing its forlorn hopes of possible victory on the violent assumption that there is dissension within the ranks of the Republican party in that state it is leaning on a badly broken pillar. There has never been the slightest ground for the impatient insult offered by these desperate Democrats to Governor Bradley, and it is not to show them how badly they have mistaken him as a man and a Republican.

"The Republican campaign in Kentucky is being well and winningly conducted by General Taylor and his fellow canvassers. The eloquence of Governor Bradley will add a fitting climax of finished oratory and sound logic to this already excellent symposium of convincing speech-makers."

MR. BRYAN'S PREDICAMENT.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "On Monday of next week William Jennings Bryan, according to present arrangements, enters upon his oratorical fight across Kentucky. Mr. Bryan's mission in the Bourbon state is the bolstering up of William Goebel's badly demoralized gubernatorial yearn.

"In the light of luminous revelation through the medium of John G. Carlisle's treacherous pen, Goebelized combinations and combinations of a paltry character most nearly concerning himself and his cause, it is fortunate for Mr. Bryan that he has a full week in which to prepare himself for a proper presentation of Goebel's claims upon the Democratic party and the kindly offices of that party's accredited leader.

"For a less versatile man than Mr. Bryan, the situation would seem to possess some irreconcilable difficulties in consistency. But to his genius the problem will no doubt prove easy of solution. Upon his own testimony, Mr. Goebel is clearly a victim of conspiring against the political fortunes of Mr. Bryan as recently as 1896. His only possible defense is the questionable one of confession and avoidance under a specific plea double dealing. By the evidence of his photographic portrait he was, at the time, in active opposition, not alone Mr. Bryan's policy, but to Mr. Bryan's presidential aspirations. By his subsequent act as a demagogue, he is now to political expediency, not in the interest either of Mr. Bryan or the fortunes of Democracy, which Mr. Bryan preaches as the only true faith. Regarded from any point of view, it is a Janus face that Mr. Goebel presents to public view—not a peasant's face to look out upon a handkerchief party from the governor's chair of a self-respecting state.

"Yet it is the thankless task of presenting to a party with which he has played fast and loose the duty that party to support the candidacy of this man, who once sought the overthrow of all for which Mr. Bryan stands. That he can undertake it is not to the credit either of Mr. Bryan's political discernment or the sense of Mr. Goebel's own self-interest. Bryan profits himself nothing, even though he should perform of his own accord the duty of Mr. Goebel's candidacy, a contingency nature beside the mark, since Mr. Goebel's defeat is assured beyond even the saving grace of William Jennings Bryan's

GRAND LODGE CLOSSES.

Most of the Visitors Have Returned Home.
The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., has adjourned and by this afternoon all the visitors will have returned home. Yesterday afternoon, after the installation of grand officers, they were addressed by the grand master, and responded to by Mr. Chas. P. Hess.

By a rising vote a resolution of thanks was extended to the retiring grand master for the efficient manner in which he had performed the duties of his office, after which the newly elected grand master announced the various committees for the following year.

Resolution of thanks were then offered by the past grand master, John S. Grant, to the Old Fellows and citizens of Paducah for the many courtesies shown them while here, which were adopted unanimously.

After singing the closing ode the Grand Lodge adjourned.

Messrs. Chas. Farhart and Fred Heibron, two of the most popular and prominent Old Fellows in this city and of the state, were fittingly recognized by the Grand Lodge yesterday, by being put on the finance committee, one of the most important of the Grand Lodge.

About 250 attended the luncheon and smoker given by the local lodges at the Y. M. C. A. building last night, and all highly enjoyed it.

EVIDENCE IN.

Noah Franklin Murder Case Will Go to the Jury Today.
BENTON, Ky., Oct. 12.—The longest drawn out legal battle ever fought in this county closed Tuesday night so far as the evidence is concerned. Two weeks ago yesterday the case of the commonwealth against Noah Franklin, charged with killing Daisy Sullivan on the night of October 30, 1896, was called, and since then several hundred witnesses have been introduced on both sides. The case has attracted wide attention.

The accused was acquitted on the first examining trial. He was arrested again, and on the first trial was given a life sentence in the penitentiary. His attorneys took the case to the court of appeals and a new trial was ordered. This trial came up two weeks ago. Some of the ablest attorneys in Western Kentucky are employed in the case. For the defense Judge W. M. Reed, W. Mike Oliver and ex-Attorney General T. J. Moss, and for the state, Commonwealth's Attorney Bradshaw, County Attorney J. G. Lovett, assisted by Sam H. Crossland and Josiah Harris.

It is thought that the case will go to the jury this evening.

PREACHER WAS LOST.

Mr. Richard Clements and wife, who were married yesterday at Bondville, arrived here last evening, and are at home at the residence of Mr. R. E. Ashcraft, on North Fourth street. Rev. W. K. Penrod, of the city, who performed the marriage ceremony, left the West Union association yesterday to drive to Bondville, but owing to the rain, and infirmity in traveling, and to the fact that he took the wrong road reached Bondville just at the hour for which the ceremony was set.

ELKS MEET TONIGHT.

The Elks meet tonight in regular session, and a large attendance is urgently requested, every member being desired.

Domineck C. Malley, editor and proprietor of the New Orleans Evening Item, and C. Harrison Parker, state tax collector and chairman of the Louisiana Democratic state campaign committee, fought a street duel in New Orleans and each man was seriously if not fatally wounded.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

gives nature the mild assistance needed for the regulation of the menses. It is of wonderful aid to the girl just entering womanhood, to the wife, and to the woman approaching or going through the turn of life. Women who suffer from any unnatural drain, any bearing-down pains in the lower abdomen, falling or displacement of the womb, can quickly cure their troubles at home, completely away from the eyes of a physician. A few doses taken each month will regulate the menses perfectly.

"JUDAS" GOEBEL

Proud That He Betrays Friends and Makes Them Enemies.

The Position He Occupies on the Carlisle Letter—Treachery His Pride, It Seems.

Lexington Herald: The Courier Journal of yesterday contains the following account of what Mr. Goebel said in his speech at Bedford on Monday. It is to be presumed that it is all Mr. Goebel had to say on this subject:

"In concluding his speech, Senator Goebel said he had heard that some of the newspapers had published certain things about him in connection with Mr. Carlisle and his candidacy for president in 1896.

"I haven't seen the article," said Senator Goebel, "excepting an abstract in a Cincinnati paper. I shall examine the statement, carefully, and will have something to say about it at the proper time and in the proper way. I am proud that I have earned the political enmity of John G. Carlisle. I have no doubt if in the convention of 1896 I had cast the vote of Kentucky for Carlisle, he would now regard me as a fit man for governor. But I cast that vote for J. C. S. Blackburn for president. When I returned from Chicago I was made chairman of the campaign committee of Kentucky county, and we turned out a majority over 500 above what the county gave Cleveland in 1892. I have no doubt that I would be regarded by Mr. Carlisle as an entirely proper trustee, Mr. Milton H. Smith and Mr. Anderson to be governor of this commonwealth if I had put my hand in my pocket and given $700 to the Carlisle campaign fund. But, instead, I gave that sum to the Bryan fund in this state."

"Senator Goebel was loudly applauded in all sorts of expressions of confidence. A gold man who wore a Goebel button shouted: 'You can't be elected without the gold vote.' Some one said 'Put him out,' but Mr. Goebel laughed and said: 'This is a free country, and every one is entitled to express his opinion.'"

Probably Mr. Goebel is the only man in Kentucky—certainly one of the very few in any city—who has not seen the letter from Mr. Carlisle. It was first published last Saturday and was republished Sunday in several papers, any one of which Mr. Goebel could find in Covington on Monday. In the olden days a man charged with dishonor had to answer the charge within twenty-four hours or stand convicted in the eyes of the community. It is not Mr. Carlisle whom Mr. Goebel will have to answer, it is the men whom he believed him to be an honorable man, sincere in his fight for Blackburn and free silver, who fought with him in the legislature to elect Captain Blackburn senator, and to whom his letter, in his own handwriting, is proof conclusive that he was at the same time receiving aid from Mr. Carlisle as a sound money advocate. He says: 'I am proud that I have earned the political enmity of John G. Carlisle. I have no doubt if in the convention of 1896 I had cast the vote of Kentucky for Carlisle he would now regard me as a fit man for governor.' He sat in that convention through the assistance of Mr. Carlisle, which he sought upon the ground that he was a sound money man. He professed to be a friend of Mr. Carlisle's and a supporter of the policy of which Carlisle and Cleveland were the exponents to obtain Mr. Carlisle's aid in having his delegation seated. If he had, after getting admission to that convention, after finding that he was in the minority, stood by his friend, voted for his principles, Mr. Carlisle and every other honest man, whether for silver or gold, would have had a very different opinion of his action and of him. He does not seem to have any conception of the infamy of the action that has won for himself not the 'political enmity,' but the personal contempt of Carlisle, the gold standard advocate, of Bronston, the Blackburn leader, of Brown, the free silver disciple, of men of every shade of political belief and opinion. It is not Carlisle whom he must answer, it is his own letter, in his own handwriting, which bears testimony against him.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT.

Well Known Young People Married Last Evening.
Miss Lillian E. Smith and Mr. George F. Runge were married last night at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Fred Kreutzer, on Court street.

The bride is a niece of Mr. Kreutzer, and the groom a well known young boot and shoe dealer. The wedding was a quite affair, only a few intimate friends and relatives being present. A wedding supper was served in the dining room after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Runge will reside with Mrs. Andy Nieman, the bride's aunt, on South Third street.

ELECTION CASES.

Several Motions Made in County Court Today.

This morning the fourteen or more colored men notified to appear in the county court and show reason why their names should not be stricken off were presented before Judge Tully. Attorney Eugene Graves represented the county and Attorney Sam Houston the accused.

Motions were made to strike their names from the registration books. The ordinance was heard in the case of the cases.

Robert Curt having been the representative had his name stricken off.

In the cases against Chas. Smith and Robt. Diggs, colored, the motions were overruled, the men before the court being entitled to register and vote.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the other cases will come up.

OUR WRETCHED BROADWAY.

Broadway was seldom if ever seen in a worse condition than now, yet it has not been more than a month since the street was repaved (?) There are holes and hills and pools of water and holes of mud, the street car track being almost a valley and the sides of the street almost mountains. The money lately spent on this street was a complete waste and the so-called gravel put down apparently nothing but dirt. Ye doubters, take a look over the street, come down and look at the block between Second and Third streets—anywhere in fact—and see and be ashamed for the sake of the town.

REPUBLICANS, NOTICE.

All Republicans are earnestly requested to meet with the campaign committee at their headquarters on lower row in old office of water company tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance to consider and transact.

Respectfully,

"Amen" Dog.

Scotch sheep-dogs are as proud as their masters in getting ready to leave the church during the benediction. In his "Autobiography," the Rev. Newman Hall describes a scene he once witnessed on a communion Sunday in the Highlands. The churchyard where the service was held was crowded with shepherds accompanied by their dogs, which lay quietly asleep at the feet of their masters. The sermon was finished, the psalm had been sung, the final prayer was being offered, and there was no sign of impatience on the part of the dogs. But the moment the benediction began every dog's head was turned toward his master, and before the "Amen" they were all in marching order. Doctor Hall once had an amusing experience with a dog which had learned that "Amen" marked the conclusion of worship. The dog belonged to a family who were members of Doctor Hall's church. At their family prayers doggie always occupied a certain seat, and remained as motionless as a devoutly-behaved dog should until the "Amen." On one day Doctor Hall was invited, being a guest, to conduct the family worship. He read the fifth chapter of the Revelation, and when he came to the fourteenth verse, "And the four beasts said, 'Amen!'" the dog jumped from his chair, and began barking as usual, as if the worship were over. Clergyman, host, hostess and servants blended their laughter with the barking, and the service ended.

FLIGHT OF BIRDS.

Nothing in nature is more wonderful than the power of flight possessed by birds. Swallows fly 100 miles an hour, and there are birds which speed through the air at 150 miles in the same time.

Any one who has crossed the Atlantic has noticed the gulls that follow the ship the whole distance. They seem quite tireless and are found at all distances from land. Different species inhabit every ocean—from the fulmar in the far north to the giant petrel in the south. The tiny stormy petrel has immense wing power and though seemingly frail has been seen 2,000 miles from land.

It is almost complete. The A. case.

CHINESE WOMEN ON ENGLISH WOMEN.

Chinese women who have seen civilized women, and particularly those in society, are sometimes as uncomfortable as the inquisitive and impatient Li Hung Chang himself. But Mrs. Shen, the wife of an attaché to the Chinese legation in London, says some appreciative things about English women.

"I am greatly interested in the lives of English ladies, and am surprised to find how few of them know how to cook," she says. "Every Chinese lady not only knows how to cook, but looks after the smallest detail of the house work."

"An English woman has a great advantage in being able to travel all over the world with little difficulty."

"I can walk only a few steps at a time on my little feet." After a moment she added, sadly, "No, no, I am long to walk, and run in the fields, as I see the English women do."

"And I envy you your hair. It looks so clean and easy, while mine can seldom be washed, and must be kept stiffly in place with powder."

"At last! I am happy to see a Chinese lady who would consider it proper to appear in such garments. But I have become used to it."

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

Onions should have almost daily place upon the table, as one of the best known.

Baked potatoes are more nutritious than those prepared in any other way.

Nails will not bend when hammered into hard wood if they are first dipped into oil—something to remember when nails are to be driven for hanging brooms, pots, pans and kettles.

A little salt placed in the reservoir of a lamp will make the flame steady and clear. A kerosene lamp should never be turned low, as the odor emanating from it is dangerous to the lungs.

FRUIT STAINS.

When Fresh.

Fruit stains may easily be removed from linen when fresh. Put the stained portion over a bowl in a cup shape, so the liquid will readily run through and pour out of the bowl. Dip the stain in this, rub and at once thoroughly rinse in clear water to prevent the rotting of the fabric. When it is inconvenient to procure oxalic acid, rub the fruit stain with soap, plaster with soft cold water.
